THE COLLEGE SEAL

The seal identifies the dual destiny of the College of St. Francis. The crest in the inner circle shows the arm of Christ joined with the arm of St. Francis at the base of the cross. This symbolizes the fusion of love between Christ and St. Francis as identified through the motto, "Deus Meus et Omnia," "My God and My All," which is mounted on the crest.

Tower Hall, the main academic building at the College of St. Francis, shown on the right side of the crest, symbolizes learning. The fleur-de-lis, atop the crest, is representative of Mary Immaculate, the patroness of the Sisters of St. Francis of Mary Immaculate, who founded the College.

The motto "Primo Unctio et Postea Speculatio," which encircles the crest, identifies the Franciscan ideal of education, "Holiness First and Then Learning."

THE COLLEGE SEAL

Our College Seal proclaims our double destiny. On the left side the arm of Christ is joined with the arm of St. Francis surmounted by the cross. This indicates the fusion of love between Christ and St. Francis as identified through “Deus Meus et Omnia” [“My God and My All”] which is mounted on the crest. On the right is the tower which is symbolic of learning.

Mary Immaculate is symbolized by the fleur-de-lis, and is the patroness of our religious teachers. Our motto, “Primo Unctio et Postea Speculatio,” which encircles the shield, identifies the Franciscan ideal of education, “Holiness First and Then Learning.”
