FORMERLY: Johanna Sontag

CHANGE OF VENUE: Under her leadership the congregation from their home on Broadway to the Motherhouse. They brought a few treasures, including the tower bell and the statues purchased by Mother Alfred.

FINISHING TOUCHES: While teaching and tending to the boarding students, the sister put the finishing touches on the landscaping and interior of the building.

CUSTOM KEEPING: She spearheading the creation of the order’s Book of Customs. She urged all sisters to live according to the customs.

DIED: July 15, 1927 from pneumonia. She was 86 and had spent 60 years as a sister.