ARRIVED: 1947, as a postulant.

PICKING A MAJOR: She liked biology, but was told there were many biology majors on campus. It was suggested she major in mathematics. She agreed and felt very lucky to have a great math teacher, Sr. Claudia.

A SNORE: Recalls having a difficult time staying awake in her English literature class, which was right after lunch.

INSPIRATION: After taking a sociology class, she went on to get a bachelor's degree in Social Work while in St. Louis.